ARTICLE I: SERVICES PROVIDED

All the ESF Champagne En Vanoise instructors have followed a training course that is validated by the State and their teaching methods are recognized on a national and international level.

The teaching services are provided individually or in a group. In order for the lessons to run smoothly, it is important that the skiers be of the same level. Given the fact that it is impossible from a practical point of view for the ESF Champagne En Vanoise instructors. to check the level of each pupil prior to their enrolment, the latter is responsible for the choice of the technical level that he or she selects according to the grid established by the ESF Champagne En Vanoise

Consequently, the ESF Champagne En Vanoise reserves the right to reincorporate into a group that is more in line with their level a skier whose level does not correspond to their declaration. This is on condition that there is a space in one of the other groups. The skier will not be able to claim any reimbursement or compensation for this situation that is due solely to his or her declaration.

Learning how to ski takes place in a specific environment that is by definition unpredictable. Skiing hence means that the pupil is personally responsible for their own safety and for that of fellow skiers. The instructor's responsibility is restricted to the obligation to use their best endeavours (i.e. skill, care and diligence). It is up to the pupil to comply with the instructions given by the instructor. The pupil is wholly responsible for his or her equipment.

The ESF Champagne En Vanoise is not responsible for accidents caused by the skiers who take part in the lessons.

ARTICLE II: INSURANCE

The E.S.F. contracts Professional Civil Liability insurance that covers the instructors in the exercise of their function against damage to a third party and also those who are learning how to ski for the time period during which they are under the authority of the E.S.F. and the instructor.

Consequently, the pupil must ensure, at the time at which the lesson is scheduled to take place, that he or she has on them a ski pass that enables them to access the ski lifts and according to their choice, insurance that covers them against the risks inherent to pursuing a sporting activity in a mountain environment (civil liability, assistance, etc.).
